- If on site, please use paper flags to indicate materials to be duplicated. Leave all materials in their folders and boxes.
- The library reserves the right to decline to copy any materials that might be harmed in the copy process or where there are donor or copyright restrictions against providing copies.
- Duplication of materials is not an authorization to publish. Users assume all responsibility for conforming with copyright laws and conventions, libel laws, and individuals' rights to privacy, and for the literary property rights that may be involved with the use of any library materials.

WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

I will defend and hold harmless the Center for Southwest Research and the University of New Mexico, its board of regents, its officers, employees and agents against all claims, demands, costs, and expenses including attorneys' fees incurred by copyright infringements or any other legal or regulatory cause of action arising from use of CSWR materials.

I have read the above and agree to abide by these restrictions:
